

Unpublished Letters from General Jackson.

— GOOD ADVICE FOR THE PRESENT DAY.

The following letters of President Andrew Jackson, which have never before been published, have been handed us by the gentleman to whom they were written. They contain sentiments and advice which we recommend to all who love the Union now:

WASHINGTON, November 2, 1832.
 "My dear Sir: I have just received your letter of the 31st ultimo, with the enclosure, for which I thank you.

"I am well advised of the views and proceedings of the great leading nullifiers of the South, in my native state (S. C.), and weep for its fate, and over the delusion into which the people are led by the wickedness, ambition and folly of their leaders. I have no doubt of the intention of their leaders first to alarm the other states to submit to their views rather than a dissolution of the Union should take place. If they fail in this, to cover their own disgrace and wickedness, to nullify the tariff, and secede from the Union.

"We are wide awake here. The Union will be preserved, rest assured of this. There has been too much blood and treasure shed to obtain it, to let it be surrendered without a struggle. Our liberty, and that of the whole world, rests upon it, as well as the peace, prosperity and happiness of these United States. It must be perpetuated. I have no time to say more. My health is good, improved by the travel. With a tender of my kind salutations to you and your amiable family, I am sincerely your friend,
 ANDREW JACKSON.

"Col. J. A. Hamilton."

WASHINGTON, December 6, 1832.
 "My dear Sir: Yours of the 3d instant is just received. I accord with you fully in the propriety of the people giving fully and freely their sentiments and opinions on nullification, and the course pursued by South Carolina in her late proceedings.

"The ordinance passed, when taken in connection with the Governor's message, is rebellion and war against the Union; the raising of troops under them, to resist the laws of the United States, is absolute treason. The crisis must be, and as far as my constitutional and legal powers go, will be met with energy and firmness. Therefore the propriety of the public voice being heard, and it ought now to be spoken in a voice of thunder that will make the leaders of the nullifiers tremble, and which will cause the good citizens of South Carolina to retrace their steps, and adhere to that Constitution of perpetual Union they have sworn to support. This treasonable procedure against the Union is a blow against not only our liberties, but the liberties of the world.

"This nullifying movement in the South has done us great injury abroad, and must not only be promptly met and put down, but felled down by public opinion. It is, therefore, highly proper for the people to speak all over the Union.

"I am preparing a proclamation to the people of the South, and as soon as officially advised of these rebellious proceedings, will make a communication to Congress. I can say no more, as I am surrounded at present, and bid you for the present adieu.

ANDREW JACKSON.
 "Colonel J. A. Hamilton."
