

Thomas Loraine McKenney to William Ward

Department of War,
Office Indian Affairs,
26th. August, 1829.

Sir,

Your letter of the 14th. Ulto, was duly received. There are no means, at present, at the disposal of the Executive applicable to the object of emigration; but the subject will be presented to Congress at the next session, and it is expected that such provision will be made by that body as will enable the Executive to accommodate all who desire to emigrate and to pay for their improvements &c. I am &c, &c,

Thos. L. Mc'Kenney
